ABOUT

Melbourne Institute of Technology – MIT Sydney – offers a range of programs in business, accounting, marketing, management, information technology and computer networking at undergraduate (university pathway Diplomas and Bachelor degrees) and postgraduate level.

We take pride in our growing reputation as a higher education provider that emphasises teaching quality and a good student experience. We offer an innovative curriculum which covers both theoretical and practical knowledge, helping you develop a successful career in your chosen field.

Students are guided by highly qualified teaching staff and benefit from the individual attention made possible by small class and tutorial groups. Tutorial and assignment work involves applying industry relevant case studies, which develops critical employability skills such as communication and analysis, cultural awareness, and a commitment to ethical standards. These skills are most relevant in the global context and contribute to you becoming a graduate who is work ready and able to immediately add value to employers in any location worldwide.

Our courses are accredited by professional bodies such as CPA Australia, the Institute of Chartered Accountants Australia and the Australian Computer Society.

MIT has three trimesters in one academic year – each trimester being the equivalent of one traditional semester. Undertaking three trimesters in a year allows you to complete a three-year degree in just two years, which means you can be working sooner. The trimester system also allows you to spread a traditional two-semester year over three trimesters – doing fewer units in each trimester in order to manage your work and personal commitments. Another option is to use the November trimester to catch up on units you weren't able to complete in previous trimesters.
