MEDICINE ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

University of Newcastle/University of New England

The B Medical Science and Doctor of Medicine – Joint Medical Program (MD–JMP) is offered jointly by the University of Newcastle and the University of New England. There is a common curriculum for this program at both institutions. Applicants select the site at which they would prefer to complete the program when they submit their JMP direct online application.

The selection of applicants for admission to the JMP is based on:

- academic merit – a minimum ATAR of 94.30 is required for a candidate applying on the basis of secondary results to be eligible for consideration. Students attending a rural/remote high school will be able to satisfy the minimum requirement with an ATAR of 91.40. Candidates applying on the basis of tertiary results must have achieved results averaging at close to credit level.
- performance in UCAT – an applicant's performance in UCAT will determine if they are invited for interview/Personal Qualities Assessment. Additional information on the UCAT can be seen here: <https://www.ucat.edu.au/>
- performance in a structured interview (Multiple Skills Assessment – MSA) conducted on set dates in November/December 2019 and late January 2020 (interstate applicants)
- performance in an online Personal Qualities Assessment to be undertaken when the candidate attends their MSA.

Details can be found at newcastle.edu.au/jmp or une.edu.au/jmp.

Applicants must:

- register for and sit the UCAT
- apply directly to the JMP. JMP direct university application forms will be available in August 2019 at either newcastle.edu.au/jmp or une.edu.au/jmp. Applications close Monday 30 September 2019. Late applications will not be considered.
- submit a UAC application by Monday 30 September 2019 and include course code 785000 as a preference by Sunday 01 December 2019.

Students who can demonstrate a significant rural/remote background may be eligible to apply under the JMP Rural/Remote Admissions Scheme (RRAS). Visit newcastle.edu.au/joint-medical-program/how-to-apply/entry-support-schemes for details.

Indigenous students may apply for admission through the JMP Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Admissions Scheme. Applicants must submit a UAC application by Thursday 31 October 2019, and include course code 785000 as a preference. For more information, call The Wollotuka Institute, University of Newcastle on (02) 4921 8705 or The Oorala Aboriginal Centre, University of New England on Freecall 1800 622 384 or (02) 6773 3034.

University of Sydney

Double Degree Medicine is a prescribed undergraduate degree followed by the four-year Doctor of Medicine. Up to 30 domestic and 10 international places may be made available in:

- Bachelor of Arts/Doctor of Medicine
- Bachelor of Science/Doctor of Medicine.

Applicants have the option of choosing a program in Medical Science when they enrol.

The selection process is highly competitive and will be based on ATAR or equivalent and performance in an assessment process, which may include a written assessment and panel discussion. The ATAR requirement is expected to be 99.95 for 2019 entry. The interviews will be held in December 2019 and eligible applicants will be contacted by email or telephone. Please be aware that assessment dates are not negotiable and eligible candidates must attend the first assessment day after the release of their ATAR results. You are only eligible for admission in the first available course intake following receipt of your final results. If your results are not available in time to be considered for the 2020 intake (ie prior to the issue of invitations to the December 2019 interviews), you may be eligible to apply for the 2021 intake.

For additional requirements and information, visit sydney.edu.au/medicine-health/study-medicine-and-health/undergraduate-courses.html

In addition to their UAC application, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander applicants should also apply to the Cadigal Alternative Entry program. For more information, visit sydney.edu.au/ug-special.

UNSW Sydney

The selection criteria for Medicine at UNSW Sydney for students currently in Year 12 are:

- academic merit – a minimum ATAR or equivalent of 96.00 is required to be eligible for consideration
- a minimum ATAR or equivalent of 91 is required to be eligible for consideration via Rural Students Entry Scheme (RSES)
- UCAT score (see box on previous page for details)
- interview – selection interviews for NSW/ACT applicants will be based on actual ATAR results and will be held in late December 2019 and late January 2020 for interstate applicants*. Approximately 350 applicants will be interviewed.

Different criteria exist for rural and Indigenous entry schemes.

Applicants must:

- register for and sit UCAT (see box on previous page for details)
- submit an application direct to UNSW by Monday 30 September 2019* at med.unsw.edu.au
- submit a UAC application by Monday 30 September 2019 and include course code 428000 as a preference.

* UNSW Medicine is currently reviewing its application process and the dates listed above are subject to change. Visit med.unsw.edu.au to confirm dates.

The UNSW Medicine Application includes questions on why applicants want to study medicine at UNSW, details of their relevant personal qualities and skills, their non-academic interests and activities, and a brief description of their life experience. The UNSW Medicine Application will be used to set the context of the applicant's interview but is not used in identifying applicants for interview. ATAR (actual) and UCAT scores are used to identify applicants for interview.

For further information, visit med.unsw.edu.au.

Western Sydney University

From 2019, Western Sydney University will be offering Commonwealth-supported and international places in its MD program, which is a five-year, undergraduate entry program.

Applicants will be selected based on academic merit (lowest selection rank or equivalent), UCAT results and an interview.

Domestic applicants (Australian citizens and permanent residents and NZ citizens) must:

- register for and sit the UCAT (see box on previous page for details)
- complete online registration with Western Sydney University – see website for more details
- For details, including course structure and subjects, visit westernsydney.edu.au/future/study/courses/advance-human-health.html
- submit a UAC application by Monday 30 September 2019, including the MD course code as a preference
- attend an interview in Sydney in late November 2019/early December 2019, if invited.

DENTISTRY ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Charles Sturt University

Selection for entry to CSU's B Dental Science is a two-stage process with applicants first being selected for interview based on UCAT score (domestic students) or GPA (international applicants). Following interview, applicants will be selected for offer based on a combination of UCAT score and interview outcome. The minimum UCAT score to be considered for an interview is an overall percentile score of 50, with at least 50 in each of the three constructs. ATAR/GPA may be used to rank applicants with identical UCAT scores.

The following selection criteria will be adopted when assessing applicants:

1. a demonstrated interest in, and understanding of, rural and regional Australia, oral health inequalities, and dental practice within these regions
2. high level academic ability
3. the capacity to communicate effectively
4. evidence of skill in manual dexterity and spatial sense
5. evidence of the understanding of teamwork and motivation to become a dental practitioner
6. evidence of community involvement.

Each year at least 25 per cent of places will be set aside for applicants who have a significant rural background or who are Indigenous applicants. Applicants who wish to apply for one of these places will submit an additional form which details their eligibility for this pathway.

Visit csu.edu.au/courses/dental-science.

University of Sydney

The selection process for B Science/Doctor of Dental Medicine is competitive and will be based on ATAR or equivalent and performance in an assessment process, which may include a written assessment and panel discussion. The ATAR requirement is expected to be 99.50 for 2019 entry. The interviews will be held in December 2019 and eligible applicants will be contacted by email or telephone.

In addition to their UAC application, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander applicants should also apply to the Cadigal Alternative Entry program. For more information, visit sydney.edu.au/ug-special.

ORAL HEALTH ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

University of Sydney

Selection for B Oral Health is based on ATAR or equivalent, plus a Multi Mini Interview (MMI). The MMI is a series of short interviews of approximately five minutes each during which you will be required to discuss various issues or scenarios with one or more interviewers. The interviews will be held in early December 2019 and eligible applicants will be contacted by email. For more information, visit sydney.edu.au/courses/courses/uc/bachelor-of-oral-health.html.

VETERINARY SCIENCE ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

In addition to applying through UAC, applicants for CSU's B Veterinary Biology/ B Veterinary Science must complete and return a supplementary application form demonstrating their commitment to rural veterinary science and practice. Applicants may be selected for interview based on their supplementary application form. The form will be available from CSU's website in early August 2019.

Visit csu.edu.au/courses/vet-science.

University of Sydney

Selection for B Veterinary Biology/Doctor of Veterinary Medicine will be based on a student's ATAR or equivalent and a statement of their commitment to veterinary science. Information on the statement and the relevant form can be obtained at sydney.edu.au/study/admissions/apply/how-to-apply.html#selection. The final date for returning the statement is Friday 22 November 2019.
